

Brief Biography

Yael is a Professor Emeritus with the Faculty of Electrical and Computer Engineering, Technion—Israel Institute of Technology. Her current research interests include CMOS-SOI-NEMS advanced intelligent sensors and embedded intelligent sensing systems. She is a life Fellow of IEEE.

Yael's passion and ambition is to close the cycle from challenging research topics to working prototypes, in collaboration with industry.

Yael is very active leading a research group and supervising graduate students.

During her tenure at Technion she has supervised many graduate students, now leading in academy as well as industry.

With H index of 48 and over 7000 citations.

Yael 's professional life is also described in Wikipedia:

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Yael_Nemirovsky

Yael's current main activity is described in:

<https://yaelnemirovsky.net.technion.ac.il/>

Yael's orchid number is:

<https://orcid.org/0000-0002-0274-472X>

